

Strobe Flash Tube Replacement:

You do not need a tool to replace a strobe flash tube. You will want to use a shop towel and cover the tube, then wiggle it a bit while pulling it out. Use the same towel to cover the new bulb. You will want to line up the notch of the bulb with the socket, then push it into place. To remove and replace the cover you will only need a phillips screwdriver.